Submissions regarding changes to the Urban Footprint

A review of the South East Queensland Regional Plan 2009-2031 is currently underway. The Queensland Government will be seeking the community’s views on the draft regional plan when it is released for public consultation in mid-2014.

This draft amendment does not propose changes to the Urban Footprint. The Department of State Development, Infrastructure and Planning requests that any submissions regarding changes to the Urban Footprint boundary be submitted during consultation on the draft regional plan.
Message from the Deputy Premier

This amendment to the South East Queensland 2009-2031 State planning regulatory provisions has been necessary to overcome the previous government’s overburdensome regulatory constraints impeding economic development within South East Queensland. The unjustified and unnecessary restrictions on tourism, and sport and recreation development outside the Urban Footprint is a reflection of old thinking and a clear distrust in our local government’s ability to determine what is right for their own communities.

While this amendment does not affect the measures in place which protect our regional landscape values, it does remove gross floor area thresholds and short term accommodation restrictions limiting this type of development and allowing local governments to make the call. These unjustified regulatory barriers have, for too long now, sent a signal of disincentive to investors seeking to establish sensible business solutions which support our local communities and capitalise on the opportunities that South East Queensland has to offer.

This amendment has been facilitated as a priority to ensure opportunities for economic growth are not lost before the government has had the opportunity to prepare and deliver a new regional plan for South East Queensland.

South East Queensland is open for business.

The Honourable Jeff Seeney MP
Deputy Premier
Minister for State Development, Infrastructure and Planning
